Hosted by the Humane Society of Greater Dayton and presented by the National Kitten Coalition, their instructor team has more than 50 years of experience in animal welfare and presents up-to-date information on the latest advancements in kitten care, educating about proven protocols and successful methods to save even more lives.

The National Kitten Coalition is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to increasing survival rates of rescued kittens, and we accomplish this mission by educating and training animal shelter staff, rescue groups, volunteers and fosters to provide high-quality, cost-effective care; providing outreach and educational materials to animal-welfare professionals and the public; and promoting cooperation and information sharing within the animal-welfare community.
